Not illustrated. 1897 Excerpt: .for highest; April, twenty for lowest, and fifty-five for highest; May, twentyeight for lowest, and fifty-five for highest; June, twenty-six for lowest, and thirty-seven for highest; July, twenty for lowest, and thirty-three for highest; August, eighteen for lowest, and twenty-eight for highest; September, sixteen for lowest, and twenty-two for highest; October, thirteen for lowest, and twenty-two for highest; November, thirteen for lowest, and twenty-two for highest; December, thirteen for lowest, and twenty-one for highest. These, of course, are pound prices. It will be seen that the lowest quotation is fifteen cents, and that price occurs only in the months of October, November and December. Another point, and one which will strengthen my case, is that during the months from about the middle of February to the middle of September, the prices call for broilers, usually one and a half pounds each, while the rest of the...
